The Charleston Market.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16.] THE CROPS.—The weather has been unsettled during much of the past week, with considerable rain, and quite unfavorable for field work, closing clear and mild. There is some diversity of opinion in reference to the amount of cotton to be plant ed the coming spring, and while some sections will, from necessity, be compelled to pay more attention to provisions, and consequently lessen the cotton area, others promise to put an average crop of this stricle in the ground. The planting eason will be watched with more than usual inresources to a greater degree than any year since the war, and also as indicating the capacity to raise the staple at present figures.

THE RECEIPTS.—The arrivals at the cotton ports for the week up to Friday last were large, and were 161,095 bales against 154,482 bales the week before, and 98,514 bales for the contrasting period 666 bales, against 51,801 bales the week of the year before. The total supplies at the cotton ports from September 1, 1870, up to the latest mail dates were 2,501,908 bales, and 1,924,485 bales the year previous, showing an increase of 577,423 bales. The receipts at the chief Southern markets from September J. 1870, up to the latest telegraphic intelligence, were as follows, as compared with last
